

'Tis the season... for feasting on some fantastic fiction!

Festive fantasy

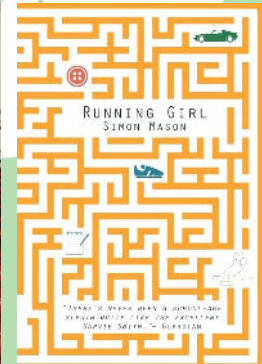

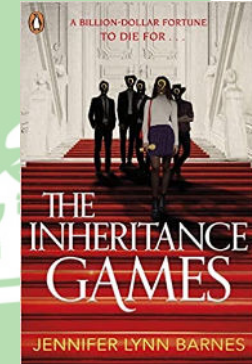

When a teenage soldier unleashes dormant magic not even she knew she possessed, she's taken in by her country's military elite – where she discovers a secret that could bring her world to an end.

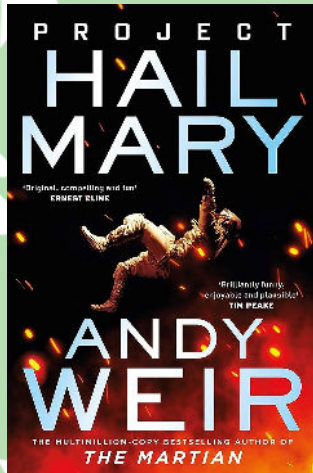

Christmas crime

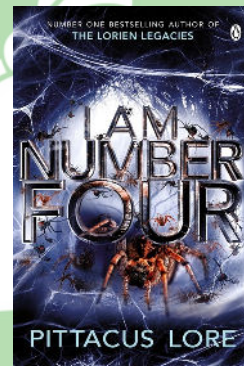

Five students go into Friday detention. Only four come out alive. It's not an accidental death. So one of them must be guilty. We soon find out that that all of them are hiding something. But who is the actual killer?

Seasonal science fiction

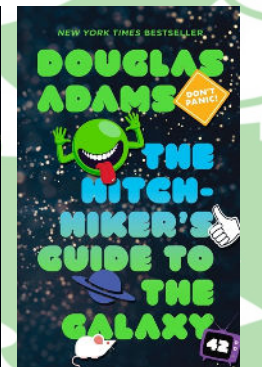

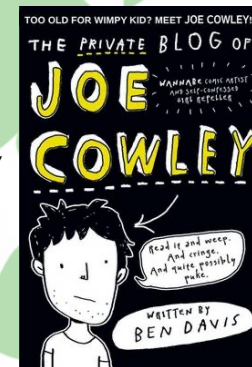

A man wakes to find himself the only survivor on a space ship light years from earth. He knows that he has a vital mission to fulfil. He just can't remember what it is, or even his own name...

Holiday humour

It's 1989 and 13-year-old Spud Milton is about to start his first year at boarding school. With only his wits and diary for help, he must survive illegal midnight swims, catastrophic cricket matches, ghosts and – of course – girls....

With best wishes for Christmas and the New Year
From the English Department and the Library